Hints for New Exhibitors

We are keen to encourage new exhibitors in the Show, and offer some simple hints which may be of help. Have a go - participating is great fun!

Cut flowers – all flowers should be in water in the exhibitor's own container. Leaves on the stems should be removed below water level.

Pot plants – a saucer under the pot prevents unsightly marking on the tables. Large-leaved plants look better when sponged. A clean pot improves the presentation.

Potatoes – should be gently washed and as near uniform in size as possible.

Onions and shallots - trim leaves to about 6-7 cm, bend in half and secure with twine or elastic bands. Cut off roots and wash gently, ensuring that you do not remove any of the outer skin. Shallots should be exhibited on a plate of sand or sawdust.

Runner beans – should be crisp, straight and of similar size. Beans should be shown with a piece of stalk attached. Wrap them in a damp tea towel overnight to keep them straight.

Mange tout and Sugar Snap peas - mange tout pods should be flat with seeds present but undeveloped, whereas snap pea pods should be fleshy and snap easily. Specimens should be fresh and of good colour, with blooms intact and free from disease and pest damage.

Beetroot and carrots – should be gently washed. The tap root should be left undamaged, but the foliage should be removed to 5-8 cm.

Lettuce – the root should be removed to enable the lettuce to stand on its base.

Tomatoes – should have the calyx still attached and be as near uniform in size as possible.

Collection of Vegetables (Class 42) – to consist of only those kinds listed in Classes 23 – 41, 43, 44 and 46 – 52 and to be the same number of each kind as in those classes. Parsley may be used for decoration.

Soft fruit - usually exhibited on a plate of leaves of the same variety.

Cakes - should be shown on paper plates with doylies, not on china or other plates.

Jams and chutney jars should not have metal caps

In all classes, ensure that you enter the correct number of items as specified in the schedule.
