'The changing boundaries of Ilsington Parish'

In anticipation of the opportunity to join in Beating the Bounds later this summer, the local history group will examine the formative events which shaped the Parish of Ilsington. Do join us for an informal talk as we consider the defining role of Anglo-Saxon manors and the gradual establishment of a parochial parish centred on the parish church of St Michael's. With the decline of the manorial system, we shall trace the changing geography of the parish and the influence of ancient tracks, which connected the evolving parish to the moor and markets. Our legendary refreshments will be served from 2.30pm! For further details do contact Anne anne@stonebarrow.plus.com
